DETAILED ACTION

1. This Action is in response to the application filed on 10 October 2000.
2. Claims 1-15, presented for examination, are pending.

Priority

3. No claim for priority has been made in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pinsley et al., U.S. Patent No 6,070,145, hereinafter referred to as Pinsley.
6. In regard to claims 1, 8, 15, Pinsley expressly disclosed a system, method and computer code for creating a sample pool for a web-based survey [see Pinsley, ABSTRACT, col. 1, lines 58-59] comprising:

a plurality of host machines for serving an HTML document [see Pinsley, Figure 1, col. 2, lines 42-44];

Art Unit: 2144

a survey manager machine connected to each of the plurality of host machines [see Pinsley, Figure 1, col. 1, line 64] ; and an executable tag embeddable in the HTML document (embedding computer program instructions, HTML program), and operable to communicate with a process running on the survey manager machine (surveyor's computer) to create the sample pool when a user accesses the HTML document [see Pinsley, ABSTRACT, col. 1, lines 61-65, col. 3, lines 9-16].

7. In regard to claims 2, 9, Pinsley disclosed:

each of the host machines and the survey manager machine are connected to a communications network (computer network) [see Pinsley ABSTRACT, Figure 1].

8. Claims 3 and 10 limitations recite:

the survey manager machine further comprises a tag maintenance process operable to generate and maintain the executable tag (HTML).

In regard to the above claims, Pinsley disclosed a HTML program (a process) generated at the surveyor's computer site [see Pinsley, col. 3, lines 9-59, col. 1, lines 64-65]. While Pinsley did not expressly mention a tag (HTML) maintenance process, the code in the HTML program called for "Modification to Advertiser's page" substitution [see Pinsley, col. 3, line 25]. Pinsley's teaching, therefore, implied a tag maintenance process, in order to modify the advertiser's page. Examiner takes Official Notice (see MPEP § 2144.03) that given a HTML program, a tag (HTML) maintenance process in a hypertext programming networking environment was well known in the art at the time the invention was made. The Applicant is entitled to traverse any/all official notice taken in this action according to MPEP § 2144.03, namely, "if applicant traverses such an assertion, the examiner should cite a reference in support of his or her position".

However, MPEP § 2144.03 further states (See also In re Boon, 439 F.2d 724, 169 USPQ 231 (CCPA 1971)) "a challenge to the taking of judicial notice must contain adequate information or argument to create on its face a reasonable doubt regarding the circumstances justifying the judicial notice". Specifically, In re Boon, 169 USPQ 231, 234 states "as we held in Ahlert, an applicant must be given the opportunity to challenge either the correctness of the fact asserted or the notoriety or repute of the reference cited in support of the assertion. We did not mean to imply by this statement that a bald challenge, with nothing more, would be all that was needed". Further note that 37 CFR § 1.671(c)(3) states "Judicial notice means official notice". Thus, a traversal by the Applicant that is merely "a bald challenge, with nothing more" will be given very little weight.

9. In regard to claims 4, 11, Pinsley disclosed:

a process running on each of the host machines is operable to copy the executable tag from the survey manager machine and embed the copied executable tag in the HTML document [see Pinsley, col. 2, lines 42-46, Figure 1, reference numerals (1), (9), and (3)].

10. In regard to claims 5, 12, Pinsley disclosed:

The process running on the survey manager machine further comprises a sampling process for setting a sampling rate and a user qualification process (selecting survey candidates)
[see Pinsley, col. 2, lines 30-34, col. 4, lines 39-40].

Art Unit: 2144

11. In regard to claims 6, 13, Pinsley disclosed:

an invitation process for receiving a user profile and extending an invitation (offering an opportunity to participate) to the user to participate in the sample pool based upon the sampling process and the user profile (predetermined criteria) [see Pinsley, col. 4, lines 11-13, col. 4, lines 44-45].

12. In regard to claims 7, 14, Pinsley disclosed:

the process running on the survey manager machine further comprises a survey process for administering a survey (collected, processed and analyzed) to a participating user [see Pinsley, col. 3, lines 5-7].

13. Since all the claims limitations are expressly taught by Pinsley invention, claims 1-15 are rejected.
